HIPAA PRIVACY NOTICE

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN OBTAIN ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

INTRODUCTION

We are required by law to maintain the privacy of protected health information ("PHI"). PHI includes any identifiable information that we obtain from you or others that relates to your physical or mental health, the health care you have received, or payment for your health care.

As required by law, this notice provides you with information about your rights and our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to the privacy of PHI. This notice also discusses the uses and disclosures we will make of your PHI. We must comply with the provisions of this notice, although we reserve the right to change the terms of this notice from time to time and to make the revised notice effective for all PHI we maintain. You can always request a copy of our most current privacy notice from our office.

PERMITTED USES AND DISCLOSURES

The following categories describe the different ways in which we may use and disclose your PHI without obtaining your authorization:

- Treatment means the provision, coordination or management of your health care, including consultations between health care providers regarding your care and referrals for health care from one health care provider to another. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know if you have diabetes because diabetes may slow the healing process. Therefore, the doctor may review your medical records to assess whether you have potentially complicating conditions like diabetes.
- Payment means activities we undertake to obtain reimbursement for the health care provided to you, including determinations of eligibility and coverage and other utilization review activities. For example, prior to providing health care services, we may need to provide to your HMO information about your medical condition to determine whether the proposed course of treatment will be covered. When we subsequently bill the HMO for the services rendered to you, we can provide the HMO with information regarding your care if necessary to obtain payment.
- Health care operations means the support functions of our practice related to treatment and payment, such as quality assurance activities, case management, receiving and responding to patient complaints, physician reviews, compliance programs, audits, business planning, development, management and administrative activities. For example, we may use your medical information to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also combine medical information about many patients to decide what additional services we should offer, what services are not needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective.
- We have an indirect treatment relationship with you, that is, we provide health care to you based on the orders of another health care provider. For example, if you have come to us for a diagnostic procedure, we can disclose the results of that test to the physician who ordered the procedure.

OTHER USES AND DISCLOSURES OF PHI

We may contact you to notify you of lab or test results, to provide appointment reminders or information about treatment alternatives or other health related benefits and services that may be of interest to you.

We may disclose your PHI only to those people that you have authorized. We will only disclose the PHI directly relevant to their involvement in your care or payment. We may also use or disclose your PHI to notify, or assist in the notification of, a family member, a personal representative, or another person responsible for your care of your location, general condition or death. If you are available, we will give you an opportunity to object to these disclosures, and we will not make these disclosures if you object. If you are not available, we will determine whether a disclosure to your family or friends is in your best interest, and we will disclose only the PHI that is directly relevant to their involvement in your care. When permitted by law, we may coordinate our uses and disclosures of PHI with public or private entities authorized by law or by charter to assist in disaster relief efforts.

We will allow your family and friends to act on your behalf to pick up filled prescriptions, medical supplies, X-rays, and similar forms of PHI with your authorization.

Except for the special situations listed below, we will not use or disclose your PHI for any other purpose unless you provide written authorization. You have the right to revoke that authorization at any time, provided that the revocation is in writing, except to the extent that we already have taken action in reliance on your authorization.

- Health Oversight Activities: We may disclose medical information to federal or state agencies that oversee our activities. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws. We may disclose PHI to persons under the Food and Drug Administration's jurisdiction to track products or to conduct post-marketing surveillance.

- Lawsuits and Disputes: If you are involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose medical information about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose medical information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death. We may also release medical information about patients to funeral directors as necessary to carry out their duties.

• National Security and Intelligence Activities: We may release medical information about you to authorized federal officials for intelligence, counter- intelligence, or other national security activities authorized by law.

• Protective Services for the President and Others: We may disclose medical information about you to authorized federal officials so they may provide protection to the President, other authorized persons or foreign heads of state or conduct special investigations.

• Inmates: If you are an inmate of a correctional institution or under the custody of a law enforcement official, we may release medical information about you to the correctional institution or law enforcement official. This release would be necessary (1) for the institution to provide you with health care; (2) to protect your health and safety or the health and safety of others; or (3) for the safety and security of the correctional institution.

• Serious Threats: As permitted by applicable law and standards of ethical conduct, we may use and disclose PHI if we, in good faith, believe that the use or disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to the health or safety of a person or the public.

YOUR RIGHTS

1. Requesting Restrictions: You have the right to request restrictions on our uses and disclosures of PHI for treatment, payment and health care operations. However, we are not required to agree to your request. In order to request a restriction in our use or disclosure of your PHI, you must make your request in writing to the Practice Office Manager at your treating location (252) 333-1277. Your request must describe in a clear and concise fashion:

- a) The information you wish restricted;
- b) Whether you are requesting to limit our practice's use, disclosure or both; and
- c) To whom you want the limits to apply.

2. Confidential Communications: You have the right to reasonably request to receive communications of PHI by alternative means or at alternative locations. However, you are required to provide our office with a daytime telephone number.

3. Inspection and Copies: You have the right to inspect and copy the PHI contained in your medical and billing records, except for:

- i. psychotherapy notes, which are notes recorded by a mental health professional documenting or analyzing the contents of conversation during a private counseling session or a group, joint or family counseling session and that have been separated from the rest of your medical record;
- ii. Information compiled in reasonable anticipation of, or for use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding;
- iii. PHI involving laboratory tests when your access is required by law;
- iv. if you are a prison inmate and obtaining such information would jeopardize your health, safety, security, custody, or rehabilitation or that of other inmates, or the safety of any officer, employee, or other person at the correctional institution or person responsible for transporting you;
- v. if we obtained or created PHI as part of a research study for as long as the research is in progress, provided that you agreed to the temporary denial of access when consenting to participate in the research;
- vi. Your PHI is contained in records kept by a federal agency or contractor when your access is required by law; and
- vii. If the PHI was obtained from someone other than us under a promise of confidentiality and the access requested would be reasonably likely to reveal the source of the information.

We may also deny a request for access to PHI if:

- a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the access requested is reasonably likely to endanger your life or physical safety or that of another person;

• the PHI makes reference to another person (unless such other person is a health care provider) and a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the access requested is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to such other person; or • the request for access is made by the individual's personal representative and a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the provision of access to such personal representative is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to you or another person.

If we deny a request for access for any of the three reasons described above, then you have the right to have our denial reviewed in accordance with the requirements of applicable law.

4. Requesting an Amendment: You have the right to request an amendment (correction) to your PHI, but we may deny your request for correction, if we determine that the PHI or record that is the subject of the request: i. was not created by us, unless you provide a reasonable basis to believe that the originator of PHI is no longer available to act on the requested amendment;
ii. is not part of your medical or billing records;
iii. is not available for inspection as set forth above; or
iv. is accurate and complete.

To request an amendment, your request must be made in writing and submitted to the practice office manager at your treating location (252) 333-1277. You must provide us with a reason that supports your request for amendment. Our practice will deny your request if you fail to submit your request (and the reason supporting your request) in writing.

In any event, any agreed upon correction will be included as an addition to, and not a replacement of, already existing records.

5. Accounting of Disclosures: You have the right to receive an accounting of disclosures of PHI made by us to individuals or entities other than to you, except for disclosures:

- i. to carry out treatment, payment and health care operations as provided above;
- ii. to persons involved in your care or for other notification purposes as provided by law;
- iii. for national security or intelligence purposes as provided by law;
- iv. to correctional institutions or law enforcement officials as provided by law; or
- v. that occurred prior to April 14, 2003.

6. Copy of Privacy Notice: You have the right to request and receive a paper copy of this notice from us

If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated, you should immediately contact the Practice Office Manager at your treating location (252) 333-1277. NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

At Comprehensive Rehabilitation & Pain Specialists (CRPS), we are committed to treating and using protected health information ("PHI") about you responsibly. This Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice") describes the personal information we collect, and how and when we use or disclose that information.

Understanding Your Health Record/Information

Each time you visit CRPS; a record of your visit is made. Typically, this record contains your symptoms, examination and test results, diagnoses, treatment, and a plan for future care or treatment. This information may be used or disclosed to:

- Plan your care and treatment.
- Communicate with other providers who contribute to your care.
- Serve as a legal document.
- Receive payment from you, your plan, or your health insurer.
- Assess and continually work to improve the care we render and the outcomes we achieve.
- Comply with state and federal laws that require us to disclose your PHI.

Understanding what is in your record and how your PHI is used helps you to: ensure its accuracy, better understand who, what, when, where, and why others may access your PHI, and make more informed decisions when authorizing disclosure to others.

Your Health Information Rights

Although your health record is the physical property of CRPS, the information belongs to you. You have the right to request to:

- Access, inspect and copy your health record. You have the right to inspect and/or request a paper copy of your medical record. You have the right to request an electronic copy of your medical record be given to you or transmitted to another individual or entity. CRPS may charge you a reasonable, cost-based fee for the labor and supplies associated with copying or transmitting the electronic PHI.
- Amend your health record which you believe is not correct or complete. CRPS is not required to agree to the amendment if you ask us to amend information that is in our opinion: (i) accurate and complete; (ii) not part of the PHI kept by or for CRPS; (iii) not part of the PHI which you would be permitted to inspect and copy; or (iv) not created by CRPS, unless the individual or entity that created the information is not available to amend the information. If we deny your request, you may submit a written statement of disagreement of reasonable length. Your statement of disagreement will be included in your medical record, but we may also include a rebuttal statement.
- Obtain a written accounting of certain non-routine disclosures of your PHI. We are not required to list certain disclosures, including (i) disclosures made for treatment, payment, and health care operations purposes, (ii) disclosures made with your authorization, (iii) disclosures made to create a limited data set, and (iv) disclosures made directly to you. All requests for an "accounting of disclosures" must state a time period, which may not be longer than six (6) years prior to the date of your request. If the CRPS office where you receive services maintains your medical records in an EMR system, you may request that the accounting include disclosures for treatment, payment and health care operations for the three (3) years prior to the date of such request. You must submit your request in writing to the Privacy Officer. The first list you request within a 12-month period is free of charge, but CRPS may charge you for additional lists within the same 12-month period. CRPS will notify you of the costs involved with additional requests, and you may withdraw your request before you incur any costs.
- Communications of your PHI by alternative means (e.g. e-mail) or at alternative locations (e.g. post office box).
- Place a restriction to certain uses and disclosures of your information. In most cases CRPS is not required to agree to these additional restrictions, but if CRPS does, CRPS will abide by the agreement (except in certain circumstances where disclosure is required or permitted, such as an emergency, for public health activities, or when disclosure is required by law). CRPS must comply with a request to restrict the disclosure of PHI to a health plan for purposes of carrying out payment or health care operations if the PHI pertains solely to a health care item or service for which we have been paid out of pocket in full.
- Revoke your authorization to use or disclose PHI except to the extent that action has already been taken.

Our Responsibilities

CRPS is required to:

- Maintain the privacy of your PHI.
- Provide you with this Notice as to our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to information we collect and maintain about you.
- Abide by the terms of the Notice currently in effect
- Notify you in writing if we are unable to agree to a requested restriction.
- Accommodate reasonable requests you may have to communicate PHI by alternative means or at alternative locations.
- Notify you in writing of a breach where your unsecured PHI has been accessed, acquired, used or disclosed to an unauthorized person. "Unsecured PHI" refers to PHI that is not secured through the use of technologies or methodologies that render the PHI unusable, unreadable, or indecipherable to unauthorized individuals.

We reserve the right to change our practices and to make the new provisions effective for all PHI we maintain. Should our information practices change, such revised Notices will be made available to you.

We will not use or disclose your PHI without your written authorization, except as described in this Notice.

If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you can file a written complaint with CRPS's Privacy Officer, or with the Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Upon request, the Privacy Office will provide you with the address. There will be no retaliation for filing a complaint with either the Privacy Officer or the Office for Civil Rights.

Treatment: Information obtained by a nurse, physician, or other member of your health care team will be recorded in your medical record and used to determine the course of treatment that should work best for you. To promote quality care, CRPS operates an EMR. This is an electronic system that keeps PHI about you.

CRPS may also provide a subsequent healthcare provider with PHI about you (e.g., copies of various reports) that should assist him or her in treating you in the future. CRPS may also disclose PHI about you to, and obtain your PHI from, electronic PHI networks in which community healthcare providers may participate to facilitate the provision of care to patients such as yourself.

CRPS may use a prescription hub which provides electronic access to your medication history. This will assist CRPS health care providers in understanding what other medications may have been prescribed for you by other providers.

Payment: A bill may be sent to you or a third-party payer. The information on or accompanying the bill may include information that identifies you, diagnosis, procedures, and supplies used.

Health Care Operations: We may use information in your health record to assess the care and outcomes in your case and others like it. This information will then be used in an effort to continually improve the quality and effectiveness of the health care and service we provide.

Business Associates: We may contract with third parties to perform functions or activities on behalf of, or certain services for, CRPS that involve the use or disclosure of PHI and disclose your PHI to our business associate so that they can perform the job we've asked them to do. We require the business associate to appropriately safeguard your information.

Notification: We may use or disclose information to notify or assist in notifying a family member, personal representative, or another person responsible for your care, your location, and general condition.

Communication from Offices: We may call your home or other designated location and leave a message on voice mail, in reference to any items that assist CRPS in carrying out Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations, such as appointment reminders, insurance items and any call pertaining to your clinical care. We may mail to your home or other designated location any items that assist CRPS in carrying out Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations, such as appointment reminders, patient satisfaction surveys and patient statements.

Communication with Family/Personal Friends: Health professionals, using their best judgment, may disclose to a family member, other relative, close personal friend or any other person you identify, PHI relevant to that person's involvement in your care or payment related to your care. When a family member(s) or a friend(s) accompany you into the exam room, it is considered implied consent that a disclosure of your PHI is acceptable.

Open Treatment Areas: Sometimes patient care is provided in an open treatment area. While special care is taken to maintain patient privacy, others may overhear some patient information while receiving treatment. Should you be uncomfortable with this, please bring this to the attention of our Privacy Officer.

DAY OF TEST-NO LOTIONS OR OILS ON SKIN

INFORMATION ABOUT ELECTRODIAGNOSTIC TESTING

What is EMG?

EMG stands for electromyography and is sometimes used as the abbreviation for Electrodiagnostic Testing. Electrodiagnostics include EMG and nerve conduction Studies (NCS).

What does the test involve?

There are two parts to a typical testing session. NCS consists of electrical impulses administered to specific areas of the arms or legs. EMG involves testing specific muscles with a small pin.

What does it feel like? Does it hurt?

NCS has been likened to the snap of a rubber band or a static electric shock.

EMG involves piercing the skin with a very small needle – close to the size of an acupuncture needle.

The study is described as uncomfortable but not painful.

How long will it take?

You will be scheduled for a one hour appointment, but testing does not typically take that long. Exams vary depending upon the reason for the exam and the number of extremities to be tested as ordered by your doctor.

Are there any side effects or risks?

There is a very small risk of infection anytime the integrity of the skin is broken. There is also a slight chance of bruising at the pin insertion site.

Is there anything I should alert the doctor to?

Yes, if you have a pacemaker or are on blood thinning medicine such as Coumadin, please inform the doctor performing the test. Any other questions will be happily answered as the time of your visit.
